Foreword . . .

To you, the Class of '56,
We wish the best in all you do —
In honors, joys, and in success,
And happiness and friendships, too.

Let not the future, beckoning bright
With promises of things to be,
Obscure the memory of the days
Which in these pages you will see.

Thomas J. O'Brien

The faculty and student body at Medford High School and his multitude of friends in the community were deeply grieved to note, during the school year, the death of Mr. Thomas J. O'Brien. Although he had not enjoyed his customary robustness, it seemed incredible that one who had been so long a force for good in our schools was now no more.

In his twenty-seven years of service in the Medford schools, by example more often than by precept, Tom O'Brien, guided young Americans toward the shaping of sound ideas. Thoroughly versed in the field of History, he added to the information of the textbook the far more vital knowledge of how a person should live with his fellow man. Sound citizen himself, he insisted upon acts of good citizenship about the school.

For the quiet child, he had a ready understanding; for the troubled one, a bountiful sympathy. For the mischievous, he had a humorous tolerance — he liked a lively lad and always preferred a chuckle to a frown. But woe betide the one who took, or tried to take, unfair advantage of another! For such his justice was Jovian.

To those who shared the deeper intimacies of his friendship Tom left treasured memories of a generous heart and timely wit. Since God in His wisdom saw fit to take from us a gallant gentleman, a valued teacher, and our friend, may we hope that Tom now walks in an eternity of happiness with The Greatest Teacher.

Ralph Anthony Romano

" . . . Dawn brought darkness for the Medford High School Community. Ray Romano had died. It was a shock to everyone, first to the members of the Romano family; then to the team members who looked on Ray as an ideal athlete, clean, honest, skillful, and a born leader; then, to the students, who felt the full force of the blow because Ray Romano had seemed so well qualified to live and to lead.

"Everywhere, people met to take counsel and to try to bring courage to each other. The members of the football team went to pray. The faculty of the school sat together in prayerful silence, mute with the tragedy they felt. Students in corridors stood together, walked together, talked together, trying to make sense out of a world that had suddenly become chaotic. Over the entire city this shadow of sorrow spread.

"Ray Romano was among those best fitted to live. He had a fine mind, possessed an extraordinary capacity for friendship, gave himself without reserve to his friends. He loved people. He had cleanness of living. And he was a great player; for, in addition to thorough understanding of every phase of football, he had zest for the game, and power to inspire his teammates.

" . . . Pain can be a remarkable teacher. Sorrow can become a tender and solemn experience, from which we would not escape even if we could. Let us stand in the full height of our faith — that God has not been defeated, that His love and care surround Ray Romano forever more."

LILIAN M. DOLE

Senior Class Counselor

Throughout our three years at Medford High, and especially in our senior year, Miss Lilian Dole has helped us to solve problems which at times seemed unsurmountable to us. She has counseled us individually, arranged for career conferences, informed us of scholarship opportunities, and put many of us on the road to success and happiness. To you, Miss Dole, the class of 1956 extends their heartfelt thanks and appreciation.

HENRY D. BUCCI

Placement Director

The Placement Department, a pioneer in the field of job placement, helps seventy-five percent of the undergraduates in the school in finding jobs that are suited for them. A service like this which is connected to the school is valuable because it is interested in the welfare and development of the individual. Also, the department can, from the school records, give prospective employers detailed information about applicants and counsel students on which job is the right job for them. We thank you, Mr. Bucci.

MARY A. ROWAN

Dean of Girls

The class wishes to express its appreciation to Miss Mary Rowan for her services and counseling as Dean of Girls.

To you the class wishes to express its deepest appreciation for your sincere interest, ready assistance, and unlimited patience in the preparation of the Blue and White for 1956.

Our first gala affair at Medford High School was the Rainbow Rhapsody, the Sophomore Hop. We showed that our class liked to do the unusual, for we had the Hop cabaret style with entertainment and refreshments. Delightful music was supplied by Tony Barrie and his orchestra. The sophomore class officers and committees played their part in making this dance a big success.

Even the name Starlight Splendor presents a picture of our Junior Prom. Stars were glistening everywhere in the gym while the swish of gowns was heard to the background of Tony Barrie's music. The wonderful time that we had was made possible by the cooperation of our junior class officers. Our officers led the marshals and ushers in the procession on Class Day. On behalf of the junior class, Fred Lynch, president, carried on the tradition of accepting the spade from the senior class president, Harold Anderson.

The Challenge of Youth

Tonight's occasion represents a curious paradox; we are blissful, yet distressed; eager, yet hesitant; nervous, yet unafraid. I am sure that we have all expressed, at one time or another, a vast longing to end the necessity of attending this public institution of learning. Now that the moment has arrived, however, it does not seem like so joyous an event. We are leaving behind us some of the most content and carefree days of our lives and departing into the unknown perils of responsibility.

A very learned man once said: "Children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for authority; they show disrespect for their elders; children are now tyrants, not slaves, in their own households. They no longer rise when an elder enters the room; they contradict their parents, gobble up the dainties at the table, chatter before company, cross their legs, and tyrannize over their teachers." One would think that that was stated by an average layman of this era; as a matter of fact, it is a quotation of Socrates, written about twenty-four centuries ago, and seems to indicate that youth has always been, since the beginning of time, somewhat insolent and daring. We cannot deny that fact. We have, however, reached the first big milestone and the point in our life where we must cast off these childish traits and assume positions of obligation and understanding. Graduation is like stepping from the top rung of the ladder of primary development onto the lowest rung of the immensely longer and steeper ladder of independent living.

Up to now our existences have been of virtual dependence upon our benefactors; but, hereafter, we must not only continuously struggle to support ourselves and our loved ones but also strive for national and international unity. Life is not an action of facility, and most likely the very sad moments will by far outnumber the extremely happy ones. Every day, however, will present a constant challenge; and, were it not for the hurtful things, our time on Earth would be nothing but a continual repetition of inconsequential occurrences.

As we progress in this world, we shall discover that life is quite similar to a never-ending war. The majority of the battles, however, will be of a mental rather than a physical nature and will be against such abstract enemies as prejudice, malice, envy, and jealousy. Even though, down through the ages, the wisest and bravest of men have attacked these mental weaknesses, they still remain to be conquered completely. We continually encounter these in every day life and must meet them with a potent assault. Experience has taught us that the best weapons against these enemies are truth, respect, and sincerity. We shall battle with such mundane things as Communism, disease, and segregation and most likely win; but we must wage the war of life until the end of our time.

An Evaluation of Speed

Speed, the art of doing or going as fast as possible, can be enjoyable, economical, history-making, and naturally time-saving. Speed seems a pleasant sensation to young people as they tear through crowded cities or streak across the countryside in their hotrods; they speak of the thrill of flying in an airplane. Many people enjoy watching races, and they idolize the daring men who have won trophies for their reckless feats or who have established new speed records. These professional speedsters enjoy no less than the spectators the hazardous thrill of going fast. Speed is economical when we consider the capital saved by modern machinery in doing the work of a hundred men in a hundredth of the time needed by manual labor. Industry depends on speed for its tremendous annual production, which makes our country the most prosperous in the world. Speed makes history when men fly around the world in less than five days, when cars reach a speed of 150 miles per hour, when airplanes travel faster than sound. Speed can undoubtedly be time-saving, wherein lies its greatest value. England was once several months from our eastern seaboard; the fastest ships of today sail the distance in about four days, while commercial airplanes bring the British Isles within eight hours reach.

Yet speed, as a method of relaxation, of attaining fame, or of saving time, can be unprofitable in business, detrimental to the quality of work, and dangerous to lives. How often has the Registrar of Motor Vehicles warned that "speed kills." The accident rate at high speeds is many times greater than at reasonable speeds. A fast moving object builds up a tremendous momentum; an accident nearly always spells death. Thus our efforts to reach a destination quickly by going ninety miles an hour are useless if we end our journey inside a pine box. Speed and Death seem close friends. Nearly every year someone meets a violent death on the treacherous Indianapolis Speedway. Competition is keen; all are seeking to establish a new speed record. Perhaps the most tragic of all speed deaths is that of John Cobb, a British racing enthusiast, who met death on Loch Ness, Scotland, while attempting record speeds over water. He was ignorant of the existence of a water barrier, defined as a certain speed at which an object traveling on water seems to be moving on a sheet of iron. His boat reached 240 miles per hour, but the pressure and friction on his jet-propelled craft became so great that Cobb's boat disintegrated and he with it. John Cobb's life seems wasted; his largest contribution to the world was speed records. Will these improve human relations? Will they help science to any great extent? But will they urge more fame-seeking "speed demons" to challenge the awe-inspiring records? Will they indirectly cause more needless deaths and destruction?

In industry, speed is essential, but if a large, detailed, and delicate factory machine fails, probably because of its fantastic rate of operation, repair of broken parts can be costly. Moreover, how thoroughly done is a job hastily done? If a woman cleans her house very quickly, no doubt she is missing half the dust and dirt, and her "spotless" home must soon be scrubbed again. Had she taken time to do her job carefully and completely, she might have had to clean less often. It is the same in any piece of work; thoroughness is rarely a companion of speed.

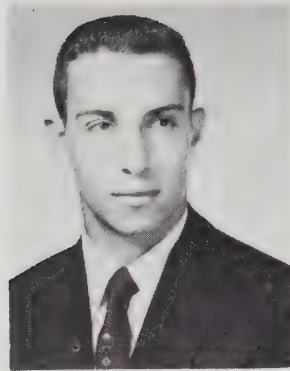

Excessive speed can be a detrimental factor in education. Too much subject material crammed into a week, a semester, or a year, has little chance to be absorbed by the student's mind. The knowledge is retained until examinations are over, then lost in oblivion. In addition, many important or interesting phases of a subject may be left untouched. Books, the source of most education, can be read well and meaningfully, or read quickly and pointlessly. True, some books can be read with speed, but only those containing mere factual accounts or those of trivial nature. But should the best of literature or difficult technical books be subjected to this modern speed-reading technique too? Can their full value be appreciated or understood when one reads for content rather than ideas, for a general picture rather than complete comprehension, for plot rather than dramatic impact?

Speed seems desirable, then, only to give the people more time for relaxation. If our individual tasks are done as quickly as possible, we have more leisure time in which to enjoy ourselves at a moderate pace. For whoever thinks of compressing a week's vacation in Florida into one day in order to have fun as quickly as possible, thus allowing more time for work? It does not work both ways. But what do we, especially in America, do with this abundance of leisure time? Some do nothing and shamefully waste valuable hours. Others spend their extra time on the streets, and perhaps this idleness is a primary cause of juvenile delinquency. A few listen to the radio or go to the movies. Most people, however, glue themselves devotedly to their television sets during every spare minute. Has the quality of entertainment really progressed as fast as our rate of speed? Can it supply us with worthwhile enjoyment and relaxation during every unoccupied moment? Perhaps this profusion of free time because of speed is the reason that our country, the fastest moving in the world, is also the most neurotic. We have too much time in which to brood over our illnesses and shortcomings. And perhaps the reckless pace of industry, which has speeded up our lives, has run the nation's nerves ragged.

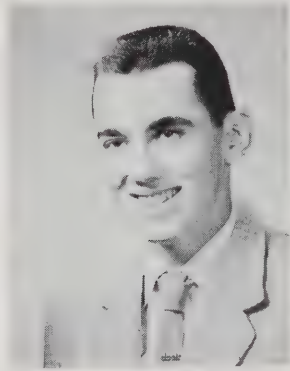

Certainly, if such serious problems as the mental health of a great country, the scourge of juvenile delinquency, and the problems of improper education, not to mention the needless death of thousands on highways and racing grounds, all stem from one cause — speed — then perhaps our winged country should take an example from its easier-going neighbors, should slow itself down, and cruise along at a safer and more healthful rate.

It Could Be!

I wonder

Yah-da-ta, yah-da-ta

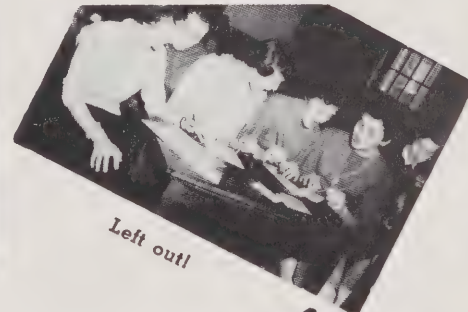

Sleepytime 'gal

It's Tommie this!

Out in the open!

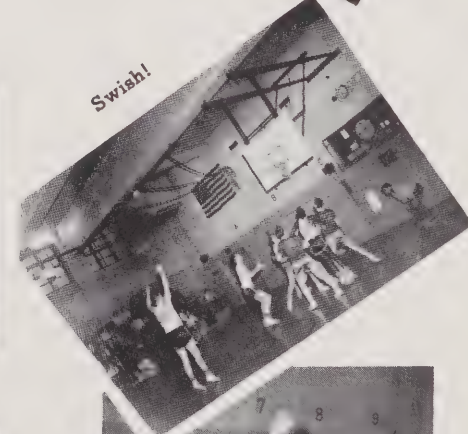

Left out!

And Tommie that!

Turn book upside down

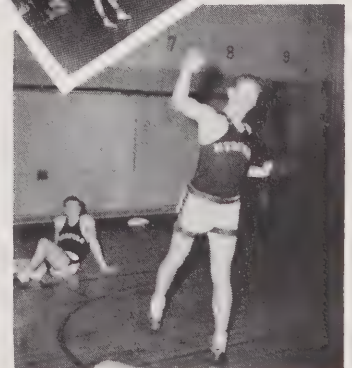

Swish!

Easy does it!

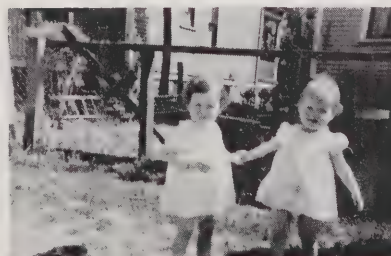

Come on, Johnny!

Hallowe'en Cap't?

A trisket, a Trasket!

Double trouble

Gunpowder? No! Curry powder!

Well-well-well!

One of the highlights of our senior year was the Senior Prom, named very appropriately Winter Paradise. Never will we forget the gay silver and green decorations or the excitement when Ernest Ardolino and Lois Podula were crowned King and Queen. The little Mustang favors which everyone received will be a reminder of the fun we had at our Senior Prom.

Football

Head Coach: John Dellisola

Assistants: Joseph Sullivan, Joseph Morelli, John Ricker

Co-Captains: Armand Caraviello, Francis Morelli, Warren Sundstrom

Manager: Charles Clifford

LE: Allen, Scibelli, Maguire Foti; LT: Raso, Piretti; LG: Sundstrom, Sgan; C: Flynn, Rizzo, Mostone; RG: Morelli, Cangiano, DeSimone; RT: Carrington, Zumpie; RE: Wells, Fiorenza, Lacey, Young; QB: Johnson, Hogan; LHB: Caraviello, Hillson, DiNisco, O'Keefe; RHB: Taylor, Ardolino, Sarno, Black; FB: Dellisola, Cullinane, DiVincenzo, Romano.

Medford 7

The Mustangs made Head Coach Delllsola's debut a success with a 7-6 victory. Bobby Dell scored the Medford touchdown. Don Cullinane booted the all-important extra point. A powerful defense, featuring Sundstrom, Carrington, Wells, and Sgan held off the determined Presidents in their last-quarter bid for a score. Spirit and organization characterized the new Medford Mustangs.

Medford 6

A determined Blue and White defense beat back many Somerville scoring threats. Sundstrom, Wells, Carrington, Delllsola, and DiNisco were superb in their vicious tackling. Fred Johnson cleverly tricked the Somerville defenders as he threw a 35-yard pass to Ray Romano, who romped over for the only score of the game. Don Cullinane starred on offense.

Medford 25

In a whirlwind finish Medford defeated an inspired Arlington eleven after trailing 19-13 with four minutes to play in the fourth quarter. Don Cullinane broke loose on a play into the middle of the line and ran 49 yards to score the equalizer. A quick pitch-out to Ernie Ardolino scored the winning touchdown with only 13 seconds of game time left. Bill Taylor scored the first touchdown early in the game; Edric Carrington intercepted a fumble and ran 45 yards to give Medford a 13-0 lead. Arlington's spirited counter attack gave them a 19-13 lead before the Mustangs broke loose.

Medford 0

Defense was predominant in this game. Co-Captain Fran Morelli, playing his first game of the season, was great in the line. Sundstrom, DiNisco, Cangiano, and Carrington were outstanding in defeat. Ray Romano and Don Cullinane made a pair of long runs which fell short of scoring. Both teams were superb on defense within their own 10-yard lines.

Medford 6

An excellent Newton team caught the Mustangs in a weakened condition and overcame them with a fourth-quarter scoring spree. Until the last period it was anybody's ball game. Medford's offense was hurt by fumbles. The

Quincy 6

Blue and White touchdown was scored by Herb Wells on a pass from Ernie Ardolino to complete an 80-yard march. Morelli, DiNisco, Delllsola, and Raso were great defensively.

Medford 21

The rampaging Mustangs trampled Haverhill, the State Champions, until the final 13 seconds when a prayerful pass scored for their opponents. Playing hard and vicious football all the way, every Medford man contributed to a real team effort. Runs by Delllsola, Cullinane, Taylor, and Ardolino featured Medford's offense. Johnson's passing of the wet ball was excellent. Wells, Morelli, Flynn, Sundstrom, Raso, Allen, and DiNisco drove back the Haverhill line and backfield on play after play. This game proved the heart and determination of an undermanned Mustang eleven. A Johnson to Wells pass from 7 yards out, a 12-yard run by Delllsola, and a 57-yard scamper by Ardolino accounted for Medford's touchdowns. Don Cullinane kicked the three points after.

Medford 6

While the team was not as effective as in the previous game, it played hard and good football. Until late in the last quarter the Blue and White trailed Chelsea by one touchdown. Three long runs scored Chelsea's T. D.'s. Cullinane, Delllsola, and Morelli were outstanding for Medford; Don Cullinane made Medford's touchdown on a four-yard plunge to culminate an 80-yard march which featured Johnson's passing and an Ardolino reverse of 13 yards.

Medford 8

A safety and a pass interception along with several goal line stands gave the Mustangs a very gratifying victory. Delllsola gathered in a Malden pass and scampered 25 yards to pay dirt, eluding several Malden tacklers on the way. An errant lateral pass, fallen on by Malden in the end zone, gave Medford its margin of victory. Bobby Dell sparkled in one run of 57 yards. However, the goal line stands were heartwarming and indicative of the courage of this Mustang eleven. Sgan, DiNisco, Wells, Morelli, Flynn, Rizzo, Cangiano, and Delllsola were devastating on defense, hitting with spirit characteristic of this fighting team.

Malden 7*Newton 25

From a handful of returning veterans Coach John Delllsola and his aides have molded a football team of which Medford is proud. That the boys admire their coach has been evident in their exemplary team spirit.

Bobby Delllsola has been elected captain for the 1956 season. Good luck, underclassmen!

Medford 1

Rindge Tech 4

Medford 1

Although Melrose handed Medford a 3-1 defeat, Medford looked its best to date as it forced league-leading Melrose to come from behind to win. Medford's one goal by Jack Cooney, assisted by Paul Perron, was not the only highlight of the game. Mustang goalie Jimmy Moniz came up with a shining performance for the M. H. S. pucksters.

Medford 3

A final period spurt, which saw the scoring of two of its three goals, enabled Medford High's hockey team to tie favored Stoneham, 3-3. Jerry Day scored the first goal unassisted at 4:04 of the first period. The third period saw great action as Bob LaBella scored the second goal with an assist by Gene Theroux. Jerry Day came up with the goal that tied the game with an assist by Joe Darrigo.

Medford 1

A strong Newton team defeated the stubborn Mustangs. Medford's only goal came late in the second period when Ed Marchand slammed one home.

Medford 2

Although the first half of the game was close, Exeter Academy's hockey team went on to hand Medford High's sextet an 8-2 whipping. Larry Cannon came up with the first goal, assisted by Gene Theroux, at 6:25 of the first period. Medford's second goal came in the third period when Ed Marchand tallied with Cannon assisting.

Melrose 3*Stoneham 3*Newton 5*Exeter 8*Medford 1

The M. H. S. pucksters, although losing 3-1, made it an interesting game most of the way. Jim Moniz was very effective in the Blue and White goal. Bob LaBella's solo goal came at 2:33 of the second period.

Medford 4

Paced by Bob LaBella and Jim Moniz, the M. H. S. hockey team scored its second victory of the season with a 4-0 triumph over Rindge Tech.

After a scoreless first period LaBella scored unassisted. Less than a minute later he repeated, after taking a pass from Ed Marchand. Jack Cooney sank one in the same period with Gene Theroux and Conway Chisholm assisting.

In the third period Dave Toperzer scored with Marchand assisting.

The shutout was the first of the season for M. H. S. Goalie Jimmy Moniz, who, has sparked in the nets.

Medford 6

Coach Fred Nichols's M. H. S. hockey team scored its third and biggest win of the season. It was the second successive shutout for the Mustang goalie, Jim Moniz.

Ed Marchand was the scoring ace for the Mustangs as he came up with 2 goals and 1 assist. After a scoreless first period the Mustangs came up with three in the second stanza.

Scoring for Medford were Toperzer, Marchand (2), DiVincenzo, Perron, and Voltere with goals and Chisholm and Marchand with assists.

Medford 2

In a non-league game Medford's Marchand and Moniz took the stellar roles. Eddie scored in each of the second and third periods. Jimmie kept a pressing opponent at bay throughout. The improving Mustangs looked good.

Medford 2

Ed Marchand played brilliantly, scoring 2 goals; Theroux and Cooney assisted on the first. The second goal was a solo effort which went the length of the ice. Moniz did very well in the nets, staving off many rushes. LaBella, captain-elect, and Chisholm showed a great deal of promise.

In a non-league opener the Mustangs dropped a close decision to defending Eastern Massachusetts.

Lamb, Lynch, and Connors shared the mound duties in this frigid first game. The winners could not do much with Connors; he struck out two in his one inning.

Medford's offense was highlighted by Morelli, who got two hits, one a triple. Lamb, Demasi, and Morelli drove in runs.

Effective pitching by righthander Lamb, coupled with timely hitting, gave the Blue and White a big win in GBL competition.

Lamb held the opposition to six hits, showing great poise in the clutches.

Pinto, Morelli, and DeMasi got two hits apiece. Cangiano and Morelli got home runs. Stolen bases by DeMasi, Pinto, and Ardolino set up runs.

The lineup saw several changes from the Newton game with Ardolino in right, Callahan at short, and DiGiacomo at third.

An unusual feature of the game was that four home runs were hit by the two teams.

In a game which was called after nine innings because of cold and darkness the Mustangs came from behind to tie in the 8th.

Connors in 7 $\frac{1}{3}$  innings of relief did a superlative job. Relieving in the second inning with the bases loaded and two out, Dick struck out the batter to halt a three-run rally.

Batting stars were Morelli and DiGiacomo; Fran got a triple and single, while Richie smashed two solid singles.

A 4-6-3 double play in the fifth shut off an incipient rally and saved the ball game.

Fran Morelli hit a long double; the ball fell dead in the mud, thus preventing Frannie from making the circuit. Walsh, Callahan, and Connors made the other Medford hits.

For the third consecutive year since its founding in 1953, the Amateur Radio Club has been most successful. This year the club was one of the most active at M. H. S. Frequent code practices were held at which many of the members trained for their novice operator licenses. At its meetings the club had many guest speakers who discussed different phases of radio. Field trips were another part of the program. Finally, the members took part in a Science Fair open to all M. H. S. students. Thus, the club had a full and enjoyable year.

The Art Club, one of the most creative and enterprising organizations in our school, has had an interesting year. Long before Christmas the members were hard at work designing their own wrapping paper and cards and decorating jars of candy to send to the Medford Infirmary. During the year various speakers, including Miss Pratt, gave demonstrations on such subjects as china and glassware, semiprecious stones, and the history of costume. The club concluded a colorful year with Easter-time activities which were enjoyed most heartily by everyone.

The members were fortunate to have as the speaker for their January meeting Mr. James Knox. The members also enjoyed the privilege of having their own darkroom where they could develop films. A wonderful banquet was the climax of a successful year.

French Club

The French Club is open to all juniors and seniors capable of attaining honor marks in French. The Christmas program, at which members spoke on French Christmas customs and provided musical entertainment, proved enjoyable and informative. At another meeting a visiting foreign student spoke about various aspects of France. Later in the year Mrs. Mary Bagley and Miss Jeanne Macgregor gave interesting talks on their European tour. The club attended an opera to study further the French language. The year was brought to a close by an annual banquet at a French restaurant.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League is one of eight hundred thirty-five chapters of a national organization sponsored by the American Classical League. The membership of the Medford chapter consists of seniors and juniors taking Latin and of those sophomores who have shown superior work in Latin during the first quarter. These sophomores are initiated in a very impressive ceremony modeled after a Roman slave auction. At their regular meetings quiz programs and skits in Latin were presented. Four official delegates and many members attended the third annual state convention held at Newton in May. As in previous years the club entertained the seniors at the final outing.

All-Girl Choir

The All Girl Choir, one of the most popular organizations in Medford High School, had a very successful year. Because of the group's perfection in its field, its members were requested to sing at many functions, ranging from caroling at a local hospital to singing at the opening of a new store. One of the most popular presentations was the singing in the corridors at Christmas, concluded with their marvelous rendition of carols at the annual assembly. The group heaped praise upon itself and upon the school for the fine performance they gave at the music festival in May.

Band

This year as usual the band has played an important part among the activities at Medford H'gh. During football season band members in their colorful uniforms gave support to the players both on the field and at the all-important rallies in Chevalier Auditorium. At Christmas time the brass choir appeared at the State House for the eleventh consecutive year. Rallies for winter sports, an innovation this season, were highlighted by the band's spirited rendition of marches and fight songs. At their annual spring concert the band members proved their versatility by playing serious music as well as popular favorites. Along with parade appearances on Patriot's Day and Memorial Day, the band participated in the Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival and made a trip to Orange, Massachusetts, for a concert. A concert with Orange in the Hatch Shell in early June and participation in Class Day and Graduation festivities made this year a truly memorable one for the band.

Footlighters

The Footlighters, Medford High School's newest organization, already has one of the largest memberships of any club. It is open to all students interested either in acting and production or in related fields, such as puppetry. In connection with this interest, a very entertaining program of short, humorous puppet skits was presented by Miss Mary Pratt. At another meeting the members enacted a fifteen minute farce, "Where's Gloria?", written by sophomore Richard Sheehan.

Among club-sponsored activities were the Talent Show skit, "The Delightful Mr. Pippin," written by Mr. Finnegan; the repeat performance of the Christmas radio play, "A Child Is Born"; and, as an entry in the Massachusetts Drama Festival, a shortened version of Shakespeare's classic, "Macbeth." A very successful and promising year was brought to a close by a club banquet.

Other duties of the members are to sell class Prom tickets and Talent Show tickets, and to acquaint the students with issues voted and decided upon by the House. Through the coöperation and consideration of the members and their advisor, Mr. Pidgeon, the House of Delegates aptly fulfills its obligations throughout the year.

Little Giant

The object of the Little Giant is twofold: first, to inform the students of Medford High of the goings-on in their school, thereby fostering school spirit; secondly, to give the students who work on it the opportunity of learning firsthand the science of journalism. The magazine, published four times a year, features up-to-date articles on sports, social events, and club meetings, in addition to original short stories and essays.

Because of the nature of their work and because of the time involved, the staff is one of the most close-knit organizations at Medford High. Social events for the group have included The Boston Globe Editors' Club meetings, the Quill and Scroll installation in February, and the banquet in the spring.

It contains up-to-date reports on school activities and is well received throughout the school. As a project this year its members visited the offices of the Medford Mercury. A representative from the Mercury also came to the school to speak about opportunities in journalism. The group was a joint sponsor of the Third Annual Publications Banquet held at the end of the year.

Their duties include preventing students from entering closed buildings while classes are in session, maintaining orderly conduct in the corridors at recess, and directing visitors to classrooms and offices.

This group is the highest-ranking group in the school. It aids the headmasters in determining student policies by acting as the senate of the student government. The council meets once a month to discuss the measures passed on by the House of Delegates. If a measure is approved, it is then sent on to the Headmaster for his acceptance or rejection.

Talent Show

Medford High School's eighth annual Talent Show equalled and surpassed its predecessors as it unfolded itself before a large, enthusiastic audience on Friday evening, November eighteenth, in Chevalier Auditorium. With the co-operation of the faculty the thirty-four acts followed each other with professional precision, alternating between serious musical offerings, pantomimes, and, of course, the dance lines.

Vocational Student Council

Since the Student Council is the official voice of the student body, each homeroom selects two representatives, one a senior and one a junior. The President and Secretary of the council are members of the high school Student Cabinet; the Vice-President and the Treasurer are members of the House of Delegates. For fifteen years the council has effectively supervised the lunchroom as a project in self-government, thus eliminating the need for constant faculty supervision. Council members have been extremely active in the promotion of special projects, such as the veterans' plaque and the public address system with record player and radio tuner. They have also promoted plans for senior banquets and assemblies and the Vocational High School Chorus.

Waring Chorus

Under the able direction and supervision of Mr. Ralph I. Schoonmaker, the Waring Chorus displayed outstanding talent and entertaining ability. Composed of male members of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, the group practiced diligently to gain the prestige which it holds although still in its infancy. The group's initial appearance this year was made at the Christmas assembly; yuletide selections were also rendered at the Roberts Junior High School and the Women's Clubhouse. The Waring Chorus, together with the All Girl Choir and the Concert Band, participated in "Fantasia" and paid credit to its conductor, its school, and its name.

Distributive Education

The Distributive Education classes forge a link between high school and business. Under the guidance of their teacher-coordinators and under the supervision of the store personnel the members of the two classes receive "On the Job" training in retail business establishments. This training is a practical application of the theories learned in the classroom. The students receive the prevailing wages for their services, and, upon graduation, they become full-time employees of the establishment in which they have received their training.

Eighteen girls and seventeen boys, all seniors, comprise the two classes.

The courses offered in the two classes include: Business English, Business Arithmetic, Salesmanship, Marketing, Advertising, Economics, Window Display, Fashion, Job Orientation, Color-Design, and Textiles.

Business establishments co-operating are: William Filene & Sons Co., R. H. Stearns Co., Sears Roebuck Co., Jordan Marsh Co., Chandler's, W. T. Grant Co., E. T. Slattery Co., R. H. White Co., S. S. Pierce Co., First National Stores, Inc., and Stop and Shop, Inc.

Washington - New York Trip 1956

On Monday, April 16, the party left South Station, Boston, at 7:00 A. M., arriving in Grand Central Station, New York, at 11:25 A. M. They took a motor coach to Jersey City, where they entrained at 1:00 P. M. and arrived in Baltimore at 4:15 P. M. A motor coach got them to Hotel Continental, Washington, D. C., their headquarters, at 6:15 P. M. The group left Baltimore at 5:40 P. M. on Wednesday, April 18, and arrived at Hotel Taft, New York, at 9:45 P. M. On Friday, April 20, the group arrived at South Station, Boston, at 9:00 P. M.

Twenty-one senior girls made the trip under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Brooks. Barbara Anderson, June Bain, Roberta Baker, Florence Buck, Betsy Bullard, Diane Covingo, Donna Elliott, Patricia Fraser, Eleanor Fredella, Laura Haines, Pauline Labrie, Nancy Lippman, Sheila Lucey, Maureen McGrath, Maureen Murphy, Susan Murray, Claire Riley, Donna Riley, Barbara Shea, Judith Shea, and Lorraine Stellato were the seniors.

On Tuesday the group visited the Archives Building, the F. B. I., Franciscan Monastery, the Washington Monument, Lincoln and Jefferson Monuments, and the White House lawns. On the last-mentioned visit they saw President Eisenhower and his party returning from the Opening Day Exercises at Griffith Stadium.

Wednesday proved exceedingly rich in fortunate sights. The group got special access to Vice-President Nixon's office. At Annapolis they saw the entire brigade parade for a Swedish dignitary; the party witnessed a fifteen-gun salute in the Swede's honor. People of high rank from many foreign countries were in attendance at the review.

At the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier John Quinn, Class of 1954, greeted the group. He is a member of the Honor Guard. His stories gave first-hand information; he also did an abbreviated watch so that the girls could get his picture.

The United Nations Building, the C. B. S. Building, and Radio City Music Hall proved interesting to the group. Chinatown, New York Harbor, The Staten Island Ferry, The Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island, the Bowery, and the West Side were visited by the girls. A shopping tour of some of the New York Stores was part of the agenda.

The grateful and satisfied party thank Mr. and Mrs. Brooks for a memorable trip.
